Terms and conditions:

Terms and Conditions - Below is a basic overview only, by using our service you agree to our full terms and conditions which are found here: www.zedflo.com.au/service-terms-and-conditions

Electronic repairs and calibrations can be unpredictable, risks are involved with the work we may perform; we assume no responsibility for damage or malfunction that may occur during repair or calibration. Thorough descriptions are required all jobs, any issue not disclosed or described may not necessarily be picked up during inspections or calibrations. Price estimates may vary, we will contact you if we need to update the estimate. Limited after service warranty of 120 days is included with repairs, see our full terms for full details and exclusions. Some services we perform may void a manufacturer's warranty or a 3rd party warranty. We accept no responsibility for voiding any warranties on your device. A minimum fee of $120 +GST applies to any inspection, assessment, repair, or calibration, if deemed warranty claimable the fee is waived. Remove all accessories and/or fittings, an extra fee may apply for disassembly or assembly. Backup your data, we do not accept liability for any lost data because of services performed. Calibrations: You accept our standard selection of test procedures which are relevant to your instruments. Our calibration includes testing with certificate, and simple adjustment if required. Further repair or adjustment work required may be chargeable. Results and associated uncertainties relate to the equipment's performance at the time of test. Drift over time and recommended re-calibration periods are left for the user to consider. Pressure calibration media is selected by Zedflo, we may use various fluids including water and oil and may use our own accessories. Please inform us if you require a particular test fluid or your own accessories to be used.
